Notes from the January Board Meeting

By Irene Osterman, Board Member

The Board met at Tallwood on January 27. Ray Beery announced that Terri Feldmayer will chair the nominating committee for this year's Board elections. He and Jennifer Disano will be attending the National Osher Conference in Dallas on April 3-5. They will conduct a workshop on best practices for programming, and Jennifer will be a member of a panel at a workshop focused on celebrating milestone anniversaries.

As the membership survey showed a preference for incremental dues increases, Ray asked that planning begin for small dues increases beginning in 2018. This year's budget was tightly constructed to match our membership levels. The finance committee, with considerable help from Jennifer, made cuts to the original 2017 proposal. The Board approved the 2017 budget.

Mason is having the contractor for the Tallwood parking lot improvement project return to correct some minor problems in the work that was done. It will not cause any major disruptions.

Mike Emery has been hired as an A/V tech to replace Nick Rodriguez. He also has IT skills which will be of great help to us.

A resolution dealing with Board vacancies was referred to the governance committee. The Board approved four resolutions:

- A donation of $1000 from FOLLI funds to the Mason library. Members of the library staff have taught courses for us and provide considerable support to our teachers who are researching information for their courses.
- A donation of $1000 from FOLLI funds for a scholarship to a NOVA student transferring to Mason. This is in recognition of the 40 classes that NOVA has provided for us at the Loudoun campus.
- The transfer of $20,000 from the working capital fund back to the reserve fund. The money was borrowed in 2016 to meet a shortfall in income.
- The Board handbook was amended to include language that the order of finish of Board candidates is never to be revealed beyond the nominating committee.

Get to Know the Mason Library: Step One

By Kathryn Russell, Program Committee Chair

You may be surprised to hear that we have a wonderful resource next door to OLLI that all members can access. You'll want to become acquainted with all the privileges that George Mason University Library offers. If you're an OLLI teacher, you'll appreciate the AV center in Johnson Center. If you're doing research, you'll love wandering into the library's stacks or exploring other available resources.

To take advantage of all that the library offers, you'll first need to get a "G" number and a photo ID card. Get an application form from the OLLI office, fill it out completely and return it to the office. OLLI staff will send the request to Mason and mail you your "G" number and Mason email address when they receive it. Now you're ready to obtain a Mason photo ID card. This requires a visit to the photo ID office at either the Fairfax campus or the Loudoun location. Our OLLI office can provide an easy-to-follow instruction sheet with addresses and directions.

Once you have your photo ID, you're all set to visit the library to take advantage of these borrowing privileges and services:

- Borrow up to ten books at one time for a three-week period with one renewal
- Request books from other University campuses (except the Arlington Law Library)
- Borrow AV materials from Gateway Library (in Johnson Center) for one week
- Get help with research questions and locating resources and materials

Next, watch for further information in E-News that will explain how to activate your Patriot Pass account. This gives access to many online resources offered by the Mason library. From your home computer, you'll be able to explore online data bases, find tutorials to improve research skills, get access to free newspapers and journals, and much, much more. Get prepared for a whole new world of enrichment!

OLLI Science, Technology, and Health Program Planning Group to Meet February 16

By John Acton, ST&H Planning Group Chair

The OLLI program planning group for Science, Technology, and Health will meet on Thursday, February 16, from 10:00 to noon, at the Tallwood campus in TA-1. We'll review the currently planned courses for the upcoming terms, and discuss potential course offerings that the group wants to pursue. Please come join us to share your thoughts on course offerings in the science, technology, and health fields that would be of interest to the OLLI membership.

Tallwood Book Club Meets February 8

By Ceda McGrew, Coordinator

The Tallwood Book Club will meet at 1:30 on Wednesday, February 8, in the Tallwood Annex. The book for discussion is My Name is Lucy Barton by Pulitzer Prize-winning author Elizabeth Strout. Lucy is a writer, wife, and mother living in New York City who spends many weeks hospitalized for complications after an appendectomy. During that time her mother, whom she has not seen for many years, comes for a five-day visit. This is the background for the story of their complicated mother-daughter relationship.

All OLLI members are welcome.

The selection for March 8 is My Life as a Dog by Swedish author Reidar Jonsson, one of the presenters at the 2016 Fall for the Book festival.

Candlemas Day

Candlemas Day, the second of February, was the day (aside from the blessing of candles at mass) to begin spring house-cleaning with a new broom and a determined gleam in the eye.

Halfway between the first calendar day of winter and the beginning of the spring solstice it signaled a time of renewal, of stirring up dust.

Now we passively look to the woodchuck, er, groundhog, to show us a promise of six weeks next of soft breezes, or,
if his shadow is bright and crisp with the day clear,
a promise of six weeks more of snow and bluster
do our minimal housewipingup and pronounce it enough.

German grandmothers are pleased at clean sweepings of corners and walkways and cupboards even figuratively speaking.
A special push to attack cluttery ways and spaces may glean a subtle smile from an old photograph.
